It's a Clarinet Thing

BETH CUSTER, the Bay Area's acclaimed improvisational musician and composer, is bringing her reed-loving quintet Clarinet Thing to Berkeley tonight for a concert of jazz classics by Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman, John Carter and Bobby Bradford. And if that's not enough clarinet for you, Edmund Welles, a bass clarinet quartet led by Cornelius Boots, opens the show.

The concert starts at 8 tonight at the Jazz House, Adeline Street at Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard, Berkeley. Tickets are $10-$20. Contact 415-846-9432 or www.thejazzhouse.org.
